

Today is the start of National Nurses Week (May 6-12), and we're excited to highlight the service of our nearly 4,000 UTSW nursing team members who deliver exemplary patient care, perform innovative clinical research, and educate the nurses of tomorrow. In honor of Nurses Week, we'd like to invite all of you to show your gratitude for a nurse – or for several! We've got an easy way to do so. Fill out this brief form, and your message will be delivered immediately to that colleague. In just this year alone, our nurses have underscored the strength of UTSW's reputation by earning numerous spots on such lists as the DFW Great 100 Nurses and D Magazine's Excellence in Nursing Awards.

Thank you, nurses, for bringing your expertise, passion, and dedication to work every day at UT Southwestern.

home the Community Service Award, part of the Dallas-Fort Worth Hospital Council Foundation's annual Employee of the Year awards.

Ms. Bryant was among more than 125 people nominated across North Texas hospital systems – and one of just 14 area employees selected as a 2024 winner. In her role, Ms. Bryant provides high-level, instrumental support to the director, managers, and staff of her department by leading a diverse range of tasks, including scheduling. As for her selection as the Community Service Award recipient, Ms. Bryant also provides resources for homeless populations in Dallas through a nonprofit she

Her organization's mission, according to her nominator, "is to support the homeless population of Dallas through weekly distributions, clothing drives, and financial assistance ... and to serve the community with dignity and respect. Her contributions to our community are invaluable, and her work serves as a shining example of [UTSW's] mission to make a positive impact in the world."
