Training for Clinical Investigators

Interested in expanding your knowledge in clinical and translational research? Earn a Master of Science in Clinical Investigation (M.S.C.I) or a certification in Clinical Investigation from the Peter O'Donnell Jr. School of Public Health (OSPH). The curriculum is designed to prepare investigators for academic or industry careers.

The ideal candidates have been trained in the medical sciences or have relevant scientific backgrounds (clinicians, residents, fellows, researchers, Ph.D.s, allied health professionals, nurses) and are seeking to deepen their knowledge of research design and methodology.

Academic offerings can be completed in various formats:

Master of Science in Clinical Investigation (36 semester credit hours)

- Part-time program/schedule (18-36 months)
- Full-time program/schedule (18 months)

Certificate in Clinical Investigation (15 semester credit hours)

- 12-18 months

Apply by April 30 to join the fall 2025 cohort.
